LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan has been secretly whisked to a cell in the Hall of Justice, where he will face trial on charges of murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A convoy of patrol cars, manned by seven deputies from the Central Jail, completed the move Sunday, Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess announced Monday.

The 14-minute move was so secret not even Russell E. Parsons, Sirhan's attorney, knew about it.

"We knew it was coming," said one of Parsons' aides, "but the time was a secret even from us."

"The transfer was accomplished in a routine manner and was part of an over-all previously scheduled program of security for the inmate," Pitchess said.

The 24-year-old Jordanian immigrant's new 6-by-8 foot cell is on the 13th floor in the Hall of Justice.

The Hall of Justice's jail quarters have undergone a complete renovation, accelerated because of the Sirhan case. Sirhan's cell is in an isolated corridor with no outside windows and no other prisoners. It is equipped with a tank fixed to the wall, a toilet, wash basin and a 12-inch circular mirror attached to the wall.

A larger security area for visitors adjoins the cell. It has bars and sliding doors and a 20-by-30-inch window in one wall. Sirhan and visitors can look at one another through the window and talk by telephone.

"This way there's no chance of passing anything," said a sheriff's aide.

Sirhan is charged with killing Kennedy on June 5 at the Ambassador Hotel during the senator's victory celebration following the California Democratic presidential primary. He also is charged with wounding five people in the hall of gunfire that cut down Kennedy.

Sirhan is to enter a plea on July 19. Since his arraignment the day of the shooting, he has been in an 8-by-10-foot cell at the Central Jail.

Deputies in three shifts guarded him there around the clock. One was in the cell with him at all times, one peered in through a porthole and four stood in the corridor outside.

Integration Suit First for North

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal judge has ordered integration of faculty, staff and pupils of the South Holland Elementary School District in the first desegregation suit filed by the Justice Department in the North.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman of U.S. District Court issued the order Monday and said the district south of Chicago must integrate its six schools in two steps, the first to be completed by September.

Hours after the ruling was announced the South Holland School Board voted 4 to 2 to appeal the order. The district superintendent, Charles B. Watts, said he did not favor the appeal.

A plan outlining how desegregation could be accomplished in the fall term accompanied the order.

In remarks from the bench, Hoffman said school segregation "has the effect of stigmatizing Negro pupils and retarding their educational development."

Ray Appeal to Be Heard on July 29

LONDON (AP) — James Earl Ray's appeal against extradition to the United States will open in the British High Court July 29, his British lawyer said today. The hearing is expected to last at least two days.

Ray, charged with assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., made a one-minute appearance in Bow Street, Magistrate's Court today on the two charges on which he was arrested June 8 at London airport, using a forged passport and carrying an unlicensed gun.

Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton ordered him held in Wandsworth Prison for another seven days on the two charges. Ray said nothing.

Milton, who last Tuesday ruled in favor of the U.S. government's extradition petition, asked defense attorney Michael Eugene when the appeal would be heard.

Eugene replied that the High Court had agreed to start the appeal hearing July 29 although the appeal itself has not been filed formally.

Ray's lawyers are preparing an appeal contending that King's assassination was a political crime, an offense that is not extraditable under British law. The appeal petition is not expected to be filed until the end of a 15-day grace period which began July 2.

since the Supreme Court ruled that in the field of public education the doctrine of "separate but equal" has no place," Hoffman said.

Hoffman spent 10 days hearing evidence in the case. Testimony revealed that two of the district's schools, Coolidge and Kennedy, are 99 per cent Negro, with predominantly Negro faculties, while the other four are almost all white with white teachers.

Hoffman ordered the breakup of the racial pattern of pupil enrollment at Coolidge school by September 1968 and at the Kennedy school by the fall of 1969.

He also said any plans for building new schools must be submitted to the court for review so that the schools will be located "with the objective of eradicating the effects of past segregation."

He ordered the school board to begin filling vacancies and assigning teachers to positions in schools where their race is in the minority. This must be fully accomplished by the beginning of the 1969-70 school year.

The ruling was a victory for the Justice Department. Similar decisions have been made in 11 Southern states.

Irish Lass Talks About Beauty Show
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — She is going all out to win, but Ireland's lass in the Miss Universe Pageant says: "I could think of more gracious ways to make money."

Despite the graciousness aspect, Tiffany Scates views her competition against girls from 65 other countries as money in the bank.

"If I don't win here, in Ireland I hope to be making a shilling here and there," she said.

But the Miami Beach effort will be her last outing in the world of beauty contests.

"I couldn't enter another contest because I couldn't afford to lose," she said, and she meant financially.

Miss Scates signed up with a Dublin modeling agency after she won the Miss Ireland title. Despite only three months of experience, she demanded top rates. "Most people in Ireland recognized me," she explained.

She wound up in the Miss Universe competition because her agency suggested it. So she quit her job, hired a manager and came to Miami Beach, Wednesday night she and the other girls will compete in swimsuits.

Saturday night Miss Scates will learn whether she is headed back to the modeling business or off for a globe trotting year of glamor.

Australian Gunman Gives Up

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Finally heading the pleas of a chaplain, gunman Wally Mellish gave up to police today after a week-long siege during which he forced authorities to marry him to his childhood sweetheart while threatening to kill her and their child.

Mellish, a 22-year-old former mental patient and convicted car thief, ended his bizarre holdout after talking for nearly three hours on the telephone with the Rev. Clyde Paton, chaplain at Long Bay Jail.

Carrying his 11-week-old son Leslie, he emerged from the house where he had held off the police with an arsenal of hand grenades, two rifles and a shotgun.

Following close behind was his 13-year-old bride, Beryl Mudie, wanted for failing to pay a $42 fine for prostitution.

Mellish started threatening to shoot Miss Mudie and the baby a week ago when police showed up at the house to question him about some stolen car parts. The police put a cordon around the house, but did not try to rush it for fear the young man would carry out his threat.

Police Commissioner Norman T. Allan arranged a wedding for the couple, with the bridegroom holding a shotgun, last Wednesday after Mellish agreed to surrender. Though the commissioner threw in a wedding feast of steak, curried mushrooms and rice pudding plus a $20 wedding ring, Mellish refused to give up.

Allan also turned over to Mellish an armor piercing rifle which Mellish had demanded to "make him equal to the police." The commissioner was censured by the New South Wales Police Association for supplying the weapon, but he maintained the young man wouldn't start shooting as long as he was humored.

"Mr. Allan's patience has been rewarded," New South Wales Premier Robin Askin said after Mellish's surrender. "There will be general relief that the siege resulted in no loss of life. I don't think too many people will now be concerned by some of the more unusual aspects."

Mellish and his wife were taken to a field headquarters set up during the siege. Their baby appeared fit. Officers recovered the weapons from inside the house.

Police said the young woman's role in the holdout was unclear. She passed up several chances to escape and was reported to have shouted insults at police from a veranda.

13. There were no American casualties.

A new part of Saigon's defenses, U.S. Navy river patrol boats and helicopters, destroyed three enemy sampans carrying rocket launchers toward Saigon along the Dong Nai River, 11 miles east of the capital. Three enemy soldiers were killed.

But enemy gunners shelled three targets within six miles of Saigon in more harassing attacks today.

They picked on one of their favorite targets and set three fuel storage tanks, a power station, a warehouse and a number of fuel drums on fire at the Nha Be fuel depot, the biggest in South Vietnam.

No casualties were reported at the depot, six miles southeast of Saigon, and the fires were reported under control.

Enemy gunners also aimed at a bridge linking Saigon with the Mekong Delta to the south and a military post southwest of the capital. Twelve American soldiers and two government troops were wounded at the bridge and three Americans were wounded at the military post.

Salgon itself has not been shelled since June 21, but allied commanders expect the enemy to make a third attack on the capital later this month.

In continuing counterblows against the expected attack, U.S. B2 bombers flew three more missions Monday night, aiming at fresh enemy regiments believed massing in Phuoc Long Province, near the Cambodian border 75 miles north of Saigon.

Viet Cong troops shelled a small South Vietnamese outpost 58 miles southwest of Saigon.

Manhunt on for Kidnaper of Child, 2

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (AP) — A manhunt centered in California and Nevada today for a 22-year-old Marine sought in the gunpoint kidnapping of a 2-year-old girl who was returned unharmed later by the Marine's wife.

Object of the search was Thomas Fulton Schofield, listed as absent without leave from Camp Pendleton near San Diego, Calif.

Curly haired Vicky West was driven back to her Marysville home Monday by Schofield's 20-year-old wife Loretta 12 hours after the child was taken as hostage for the Schofields to flee the area, said Sheriff Gary J. Miller of Yuba County.

Miller quoted Mrs. Schofield as saying her husband got out of the car near Redding—about 100 miles north of Marysville and near the Nevada border—and he told her to take the girl back. "She said he told her to come home, that he didn't want her to get involved," the sheriff said.

Rioting and Looting in Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Looting and window breaking by gangs of young people lasted more than three hours Monday night in the predominantly Negro section of Roxbury after a city-sponsored concert by a Negro singing group.

Police said the trouble began when an overflow crowd of about 25,000 began leaving Carter playground after the concert, part of the city's "summering" festival, an eight-week program of neighborhood entertainment.

Youths began pelting cars with rocks, police said, then broke into nearby stores. Several liquor stores were among those looted. The rock throwing and looting soon spread into the nearby North Dorchester and South End sections before police blocked off the area.

Regular police patrols were joined by 50 members of the riot trained tactical patrol force, some with dogs.

Four policemen were treated for various injuries and seven juveniles were arrested for breaking windows and other disorders, authorities said.

Mystery Kidnaping Startles

CORRY, Pa. (AP) — It started out as a typical day in the life of a rural family.

James P. Cooney was at work at his job with a business equipment manufacturing company in town and Mrs. Cooney was at home with the children.

The three youngest Cooney children were playing at the side of the farmhouse and Karen Sue, 15, the oldest, was in the yard hanging up the wash.

But then Karen screamed. And by the time Mrs. Cooney got out into the yard and the other children rounded the house, Karen had vanished.

About 100 policemen and volunteers fanned out over 150 acres of rugged, wooded terrain 25 miles below the New York line Monday in search of the brown-haired, blue-eyed high young Marine's for several months, said they had talked Sunday evening and Schofield said he thought he was being sought for a San Francisco knifing. Police in San Francisco said later they were seeking no Schofield.

Miller said the two then picked up Mrs. Schofield and drove to the West home. At one point, Miller said, Schofield knocked Mrs. West's brother-in-law Michael, 16, unconscious with a pistol blow on the head. He was recovering today.

Then the Schofields tied up the boy, Mrs. West and Mrs. West's other daughter, Jamie, 5, and fled with Vicky in the West family sedan, Miller said.

A half-day later, Vicky was back home, "hungry, but okay," Mrs. West said.

Egypt Says 31 Killed in Suez Duel

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian government reported today that Israeli artillery and tank fire killed 31 civilians and wounded 58 during Monday's gun duel across the Suez Canal.

A military communique said several houses in the heavily populated district of Elarbeen, in the city of Suez were demolished when the Israelis laid down three separate barrages lasting more than two hours. An Egyptian soldier also was reported wounded.

Israel said the battle started when the Egyptians raked Israeli positions north of Port Taufiq with artillery and small arms fire. The fighting spread along a six-mile front, the Israeli army reported, until a ceasefire was arranged.

Israel also reported Jordanian gunners fired today on an Israeli patrol that was digging up two antivehicle mines apparently laid by Arab saboteurs near the Jordan River.

The army said the Israelis fired back and there were no casualties.

The clash along the canal was the first since June 23 and came as Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser was in Moscow conferring with top Soviet officials.

Diplomatic sources in London said the Soviets had advised the British privately they would like to see the big powers force Israel and her neighbors to begin some form of phased peace.

NEA Entertainment Editor
GARRISON, N.Y. (NEA)—The final scene of "Hello Dolly" had just been filmed even though the picture has several weeks more shooting on the schedule. Barbra Streisand had walked through a waving, swaying throng of 350 costumed extras to the steps of a small, white, steeped church where Walter Matthau waited to give her a kiss. As the music swelled and the camera picked up the whole vista of the Hudson River and rolling hills in the background, they entered the church to get married.

At lunch break, a blanket was spread on a green hill and Matthau, his pretty wife Carol, their 5½-year-old son, Charlie, and Charlie's nurse, Miss Ray, had a picnic.

Under a nearby tree, Barbra Streisand sat with friends and ate her lunch.

me until I saw them all looking at Barbra," Walter said.

Matthau is one of the world's originals, a man who deserves to be, as he is becoming, a legend. He's a tall, wrinkled, tough but lovable bear who pokes fun at himself more often than he knocks other people. (Although he did once describe an actor he didn't like as being "miscast in the human race"). For instance, he is not too happy with the ads for his current picture, "The Secret Life of an American Wife" which show him clad in pajama bottoms.

"Who wants to look at a 6-foot-2 Jew with flabby breasts?" he asks.

After years as one of the best and most respected actors on Broadway and in television, Walter's present star status in Hollywood delights everyone who has ever met him.

"It's boring to be an actor. You're always talking about yourself and the more you talk the less you know," he says. "But movies have other considerations. It's like being on Army maneuvers when you're playing a lead. You're the general, and everyone makes sure you're comfortable. You have cars and good dinners and comfortable chairs and a nice dressing room. If you don't let it go to your head you can have a lot of fun watching people make a big fuss over you. Occasionally I pretend I'm angry and I call and say, 'I don't have a car,' and then they scramble."

"I was getting tired of people telling me I am a good actor. Now I'm having fun making a fortune in money every time I open my mouth."

Walter says he is not lost to Broadway, although for 25 years Broadway has been a showcase for movies. You hope you can hit on Broadway so you get called for movies. I have always considered myself an actor rather than a personality, though, and I went along on the assumption that only personalities made the grade as movie stars. I guess I wasn't as good an actor as I thought."

"Was your first movie 'The Kentucky'?" Charlie asked.

"The Kentucky-ian," Walter enunciated in the manner of a parent teaching his child his ABC's. "What was my second?"

Charlie said, "The In-Fighter."

"And the third?"

"That I don't know."

"Big-ger-Than-Life," Walter enunciated.

"Poppy, was 'The Odd Couple' supposed to make you laugh?" Charlie asked. Charlie laughed at his funny question.

"Do you know how old I am?" Charlie said. "I'm really 82, but my fake age is 5½."

"I'm really quite in love with Charlie," Carol said. "He's a wonderful little boy to be with."

"I think of myself as a writer," Walter said. "Carol is only in love with writers."

"That's not true. I loathe them," she said.

"She talks too much," Charlie said. "To everyone, including you, poppy."

Walter turned to a furiously scribbling writer. "Are you getting all this down?" (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Associated Press Writer
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — For Miss El Dorado, Sharon Quimby, the Miss Arkansas pageant is starting out to be a big mess, but the shapely 19-year-old hopes it ends up in a neat and orderly fashion with her being crowned the new Miss Arkansas.

Miss Quimby, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil N. Quimby, is one of 45 beauties from throughout Arkansas who will register today for a week-long schedule of events leading to the selection of Miss Arkansas for 1968 on Saturday.

Miss Quimby's "big mess" involves the female attraction for clothes.

"I'm having the biggest mess," she said. "It's taking me two cars for all my clothes, props and costumes and I've packed and unpacked three times that I know of."

Miss Quimby, whose talent is quick costume changing and dancing, plans to drive one car and she said her chaperone will drive another.

"We just couldn't get everything in one car," she said. "I didn't even take this many clothes on vacation with me. I'm glad I'm not flying because they wouldn't let me on the plane."

Miss Quimby apparently will have everything packed away today, though, so she can calm her nerves and concentrate on the pageant.

"I've always wanted to be in it," she said. "It's something every girl would love to get in."

Another contestant is Miss Jonesboro, Brenda Stone, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Stone of Jonesboro.

Like Miss Quimby, Miss Stone is "a little more excited than nervous" about the pageant.

She said the Jaycees talked her into entering the Miss Jonesboro contest and everything "they said sounded wonderful to me. I just loved it."

Miss Stone has won several other beauty titles, but she brushes it off with "I've been real lucky." Of course luck had nothing to do with her 36-24-36 figure and her talent is singing.

Miss Stone said her experience in beauty contests doesn't necessarily mean it will help her in this one.

"I really don't know whether it will help or not," she said. "Anytime you enter a pageant it's completely different, but I've enjoyed all the pageants very much."

The girls will register here this afternoon and will hold a press conference. An orientation dinner is planned this evening. Tuesday they will travel to Little Rock for taping of a television program and then return to Hot Springs to make their first official public appearance at the Miss Arkansas parade.

Rehearsals will be Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. They will meet the judges and prepare for the three preliminary contests each night at 8 p.m.

Preliminary winners in talent and swimsuit competition will be announced at the end of each night's judging. The new Miss Arkansas will be selected 8 p.m. Saturday. She will succeed Sharon Ann Evans of North Little Rock.

Miss Evans will reign over the pageant functions until Robert Wheeler, pageant director, crowns her successor.

Wheeler has labeled this year's contestants as perhaps the most intellectual group ever to assemble for the pageant. He said that 98 per cent of the girls are either attending college now or plan to this fall.

Less Green is executive director of the pageant, Bob Evans director of the state Publicity and Parks Commission, will serve as master of ceremonies for the 17th straight year.

Mrs. Betty Fowler of Little Rock will become the official chaperone for Miss Arkansas this year. She succeeds Mrs. Dorothy Allen of Brinkley.

Bare Midriffs Here

Maybe you've already whitened down your waist in anticipation of the new fashion trends, but how about the bare midriff? Everybody's midsection is bared! Not only swimsuits and sun clothes, but dresses for evening are revealing an expanse of skin that you have probably been neglecting. So right now is the time to smooth and soften this area of skin with frequent applications of good body lotion. For the evenings, you may smooth on a foundation that blends in with your complexion.

DID PSYCHOLOGY EXPERIMENT GO TOO FAR?

Dear Helen: Several weeks ago a girl I barely know from one of my college classes asked me if I would be willing to go out with her brother on the following Saturday night. She said he attends another college and emphasized that she and her date would be doubling with us.

I accepted and the four of us had a pretty good time. However, I was shocked to learn recently that everything she told me about her "brother" was true—except he wasn't her brother, he was her boy friend!

The two of them had been dating for a year and since they were both studying psychology, they wanted to observe each other on a date with someone else. What do you think of her deceiving me and her date like that?—D.D.

Dear D: Not much! The gal should lose her boy friend to a guinea pig.—H.

Dear Helen: I think the woman from the Council on Alcoholism was very wrong to call you pessimistic. I know from experience that an alcoholic won't even see a doctor until she is quite ready to. My mother is an alcoholic, now with A.A. for 17 years. She became hooked on drugs as well as liquor, and she had to reach bottom before she would admit it. Many times, the next morning, I sat by her bed begging her to see a doctor.

Also, authorities sometimes overlook the fact that a person who doesn't admit she is an alcoholic gets incensed if her child goes to Alateen, or Al Anon.

My mother hit bottom one night after I wrestled with her over a gun. Though she was very drunk, I told her what she was doing to her family and if she wanted us, we'd work it out together. We started going to A.A. meetings and soon I joined Alateen. She was finally ready.

I'm very proud of Mom now because together we help others who are in the same boat.—FRESNO TEEN

Dear Helen: I'm so very mixed up. I'm 16, and there's nothing left for me but the same old merry-go-round that started when I was 10—when I went on my first date. I lost my virginity before I was 14, and it hasn't been just one. I've even had an affair with a 30-year-old married man.

This spring I found a boy who was very understanding. He respected me and knew how much I wanted to change. But last week all that changed. We got carried away. Maybe it was all my fault. I don't know, but I think my love for him was killed that night. He swears it will never happen again. I know better. I know I'm a cheap pickup, and I'll never change. So I'll go back to drinking and trying anything for a change, because I fall every time I try to be something else.

Helen, I have a wonderful family. I've hurt them too much. They thought this boy would make my life different. Now I want to quit school because I can't face kids who know I'm a tramp. My grades are rotten. I'm a failure and my life is over.

But I can't help dreaming about the boy and how it might have been if I wasn't a—WORTHLESS NO-GOOD

Dear W: You almost made it, honey. Don't give up now! Stop hating yourself long enough to realize people care about you. You've punished yourself long enough. Now face the fact that you need expert help before you can make a permanent change—and give your folks a chance to provide it for you. Ask them to make an appointment with a counselor—today!—H.

Kansas City Chiefs Pro Powerhouse

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City has more question marks and more competition for positions than any time in the past five years. But the Chiefs might bid strongly to regain the American Football League championship.

"This competition is the greatest tonic in the world," said Coach Hank Stram as he prepared for the opening of rookie camp Wednesday at Liberty, Mo. "This should juice everybody up."

Stram is confident he has the talent to fill all eight question mark positions, with a potent mixture of rookies, taxi squad graduates and two trade acquisitions—running back Wendell Hayes and cornerback Goldie Sellers, both of Denver.

"We surely could win back the title if these people come through," Stram said. "We have a whole bunch of key positions, but we have the ability at each one. I'm hoping the competition will produce better depth and more quality players over-all than we've ever had."

Until recently, it appeared Kansas City had excellent backfield depth.

"Then we lost three backs in about a week," Stram said. "You never can have too much."

Bruce McLenna was killed in a freak auto accident, Gene Thomas was traded and rookie Robert Holmes of Southern U., was drafted by the military.

"We still have Mike Garrett, Curtis McClinton, Bert Coan and Hayes, but we need one more in case any one of them is hurt," the coach said.

Five of the highly competitive spots are on defense. It is Aaron Brown, 265, VS. Gene Trosch, 277, at end; former end Chuck Hurston, 240, VS. Bud Abel, 220, at right linebacker; Jim Lync, 235, VS. Willie Lanier, 245, both second-year men, at middle linebacker; Sellers VS. Emitt Thomas at left cornerback; and Jim Kearney VS. Dave Bonds at strong safety.

Offensively, it's Gloster Richardson VS. Frank Pitts at split end; Wayne Frazier, Mike Hudock and ex-linebacker E.J. Holub at center; and Curt Marz at right tackle where starter Al Reynolds was lost to Cincinnati in the expansion draft.

Merz is over his back miseries and rates No. 1. Kansas City's first two draft choices were guards—Maurice "Mo" Moorman, 252, of Texas A&M, and George Daney, 240, of Texas-El Paso. But they won't report until after the College All-Stars-Green Bay game at Chicago Aug. 2.

When they arrive, assuming they settle their money differences with the club, they'll have to move out Kilt Colvin, 24, capable 250-pounder up from the taxi squad and Baker University at Baldwin, Kan.

New Crop of Pros Fights for Grid Job

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Aggressiveness and 100 percent efforts prevailed during two rough football practice sessions at the Cincinnati Bengals' summer camp Monday.

The reason is that more than 70 rookies and free agents are scared, aware that cuts are coming and are fighting for jobs with the American Football League team. Around 15 are expected to be retained on the squad.

"These guys are more hungry than the Eagles were," George Catalvas said about Philadelphia of the National Football League. "They're not thinking about themselves so much, they just want to make the club," the defensive back from Purdue continued.

Catalvas failed to make the Philadelphia team last year as a rookie and knows well the feeling of being cut and the pressure involved in trying to put out top performances and make the team.

"There are lots of people in my position," he said.

Catalvas, from Cleveland, grew up during the days when Paul Brown, current coach-general manager of Cincinnati, coached the Cleveland Browns.

"I know about Paul Brown teams. Cincinnati will be a good organization," Catalvas said. He commented that there are a lot of men in camp who really love the game and Harry Gunner, a big defensive end and rookie from Oregon State, added, "This game is just hard . . . if you play, you've got to love it."

The Bengals cut five men from the squad Sunday and lost five more Monday—three by cuts and two to medical problems.

Released were Jim Curry, former University of Cincinnati end, and placekickers Sam Robarts, Ohio University, and Bill chardson VS. Frank Pitts at split end; Wayne Frazier, Mike Hudock and ex-linebacker E.J. Holub at center; and Curt Marz at right tackle where starter Al Reynolds was lost to Cincinnati in the expansion draft.

Ford Whip Turbines at Castle Rock

CASTLE ROCK, Colo. (AP) — Andy Granatelli-designed Lotus turbines made their road racing debut here Sunday. Despite the cheering of 17,500 fans—the largest crowd ever to witness a motor racing event in Colorado—the sleek red whistlers provided another disappointment for their owners and drivers.

A flock of fast Fords, packed by A.J. Foyt's winning Coyote, swept the first four places in the Rocky Mountain 150 at Continental Divide Raceways, one of the U.S. Auto Club's National Championship series.

For turbine drivers Art Pollard of Medford, Ore., and Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., the race was the beginning of an education which they hope will culminate in a racing victory.

Pit crews on the turbine cars worked into the early morning hours Sunday on brake systems after the qualifying round Saturday. The four-wheel drive turbines have no engine braking, and the drivers punished the brakes on the 10-turn 2.66 mile course.

Leonard started in seventh and had steadily moved up to second behind Foyt when the half-shaft on the left-front drive wheel of his turbine snapped, forcing him out with about 15 miles to go.

Pollard, with no brakes at all for about the last 15 minutes of the race, was fifth when the checkered flag fell on Foyt.

Pollard completed 55 laps to finish behind Foyt, Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., Malloy and AUUnser of Albuquerque, N.M.

Pro Grid Game Faces Fall Strike

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — National Football League owners sounded the alarm button Monday night.

Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns and president of the NFL, announced that "pro football faces a long and disastrous strike" and then called for a full meeting of owners in Chicago today.

Modell's statement came after the NFL's Players Association said it had failed to resolve its disagreement with the owners over player pensions.

The players are seeking additional pension funds before the 1970 deadline desired by the owners.

Both groups met on the outskirts of Chicago Monday but reached no conclusion.

While the owners refused to give in to the players, the question of the All-Star Game arrived.

Vince Lombardi, general manager of the Green Bay Packers, who as the champions of pro football, must meet the College All-Stars in Chicago Aug. 2, said "the game will have to be delayed or canceled" unless the Packers have at least three weeks to get ready.

This resulted from an ultimatum by Modell to hold off the opening of all pro football camps until the present matter is settled.

The San Francisco 49ers were to open their rookie camp Sunday and the Packers were among those scheduled to start workouts Wednesday.

George Strickler, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune whose Chicago Tribune charities sponsors the All-Star Game, said, "Our contract is with professional football including the National Football and the American Football League."

"Our coaches are here and our squad will assemble Thursday and begin workouts Friday. We'll fulfill our end of our contract and we hope professional football will fill it in."

Meanwhile, Modell issued a statement that said, "Despite having granted 21 demands of the players' union, pro football faces a long and disastrous strike on the sole issue of granting pension benefits in 1968 to players, who on the average, will not be eligible to receive such benefits until the year 2,000."

The players' stand, held by John Gordy of the Detroit Lions who also is president of the Players' Association, is that the owners cannot contract for any amount of money concerning 1970 "when they do not know what the situation will be then."

The owners claim they have granted 21 demands to the players and the union's leaders "have taken the position that such an agreement cannot be concluded until the ultimate merger with the American Football League is completed."

Modell, meanwhile, refused to claim the players' group is striking. He calls it an "impasse."

Final Day for Powder Puff Derby

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — With five planes across the finish line and another stuck in a "pea patch" 20 miles away, officials of the Powder Puff Derby braced today for the final wave of lady aviators completing a four-day, 2,500-mile cross-country race.

Two of the 75 planes left in the race Monday were scratched and another was disqualified.

The deadline to reach Savannah is sundown today.

A spokesman said five of the teams arrived before sundown Monday. Thirty were reported in Greenville, Miss., preparing for the final leg of the trip. Several put in at Birmingham, Ala., an alternate stop, when threatened by a squall line of thunder showers and others were spread along the route stretching as far away as Phoenix, Ariz.

The first to touch down Monday was No. 25, piloted by Shirley Fadel Junker and Ila Mae Carosell, both of Palm Springs, Calif., 12 minutes ahead of No. 45, brought in by Beryl Young and Olga Turling, both of Queensland, Australia.

Third was No. 49, piloted by Cleo Sherbow of Baltimore, Md., and Jean Ralston of Washington, D.C.

Later came No. 58 with Joann Stype of Wooster, Ohio, and Ruby Mensingh of Akron, Ohio, and No. 59, piloted by Virginia Rainwater of Reseda, Calif.

Girl Golf Rookie Pars Course

TORONTO (AP) — Sandra Post, the rookie Canadian professional who rocked U.S. golf with a sensational victory in the Women's PGA Championship two weeks ago, shot a par 75 here Monday and said: "I'm exhausted."

The 20-year-old Oakville, Ont., girl played a relaxed practice round for the $25,000 Women's Open Golf Tournament at the Bayview Golf and Country Club July 25-27.

Miss Post flew into Toronto early Monday after a 12th-place finish, worth $540, in the Women's Open Golf Championship at Reading, Pa., Sunday.

After four hours sleep she played 18 holes—matching the women's par—gave a series of interviews, and flew out again Monday evening to play in a $20,000 Open at Columbus Ohio.

Unser Will Race in 'Endurance'

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) — Bobby Unser, winner of this year's Indianapolis 500, says he will drive in Sunday's Six Hours of Endurance for manufacturers to be held at the Watkins Glen 2.3-mile track.

Unser, 34, of Albuquerque, N.M., wired track officials Monday that he would drive the new two-litre, group 6 prototype Ferrari for Luigi Chinetti's North American racing team of Greenwich, Conn.

Officials said a new six-cylinder, double overhead cam, fuel-injection engine and a new gearbox were installed in the car that was expected to arrive today.

Charlie Kolb, 44, of Miami, Fla., a veteran of Ferrari sprint and endurance racing will be Unser's codriver as they run for the manufacturers' championship.

Sunday's $20,000 event, the eighth of 10 races throughout the world for the championship, has 29 cars entered.

and Shirley Kay of Encino, Calif.

A spokesman said plane No. 32, piloted by Dorothy Birdsong of Temple Terrace, Fla., and Ethel Gibson of St. Petersburg, Fla., almost made it to Savannah but was forced by icing conditions to land in a field about 20 miles away from the finish.

The spokesman said Mrs. Birdsong called and "said she had landed in a pea patch. There was no damage." However, the plane was unable to fly before sundown and the crew was disqualified.

Officials said winners will not be determined until late Wednesday after ground speeds and handicaps are computed.

Low Scoring Due Today in the All-Star

By DENNIE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP) — Managers Dick Williams of the American League and Red Schoendienst of the National League, both noting it has been the year of the pitcher, predict a low-scoring mound duel in baseball's 39th annual All-Star Game tonight in the spacious Astrodome.

Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals, who will start 10-game winner Don Drysdale of Los Angeles, said, "I lean toward a pitcher's game. This has been the year of big zero."

Williams of the Boston Red Sox agrees. "I would say it will be a pitchers' battle," he said. "The pitchers should predominate."

He named herky-jerky right-hander Luis Tiant of Cleveland, a 14-game winner to start for the American.

A standing-room crowd of over 50,000 is expected for the game starting at 8:15 EDT in the air conditioned stadium built by Judge Roy Hofheinz, owner of the Houston Astros.

The AL went through an hour workout Monday afternoon under order from American League President Joe Cronin to get the feel of the synthetic turf. Most American Leaguers have never played in the Dome.

The National holds a 20-17 series edge, including five straight and nine of the last 10. The National is a 7-5 favorite.

This caused Williams to remark after he pitched batting practice: "We sure didn't come down here to lose."

The American Leaguers adjusted quickly to the fast surface of the carpet-like turf.

Brooks Robinson, Baltimore third baseman, said, "The ball bounces true but it sure gets through the infield quick. I'd like to hit here all year. It would probably add 25 points to your batting average."

Giant Frank Howard of Washington, the leading home run hitter in the majors with 25, said he didn't think the ball carried very well.

Howard then proceeded to rip several shots into the left field seats—one over the 390 mark.

The Astrodome has dimensions of 340 feet down each line. It's 406 feet to dead center.

Some of the American League stars weren't on hand for the practice session, including Carl Yastrzemski and Ken Harrelson of Boston, Bill Freeman of Detroit and Mickey Mantle of New York, the team captain and first player ever to hit a homer in the Astrodome.

Asked about the missing players, Williams said, "They've got commitments. The game's tomorrow not today."

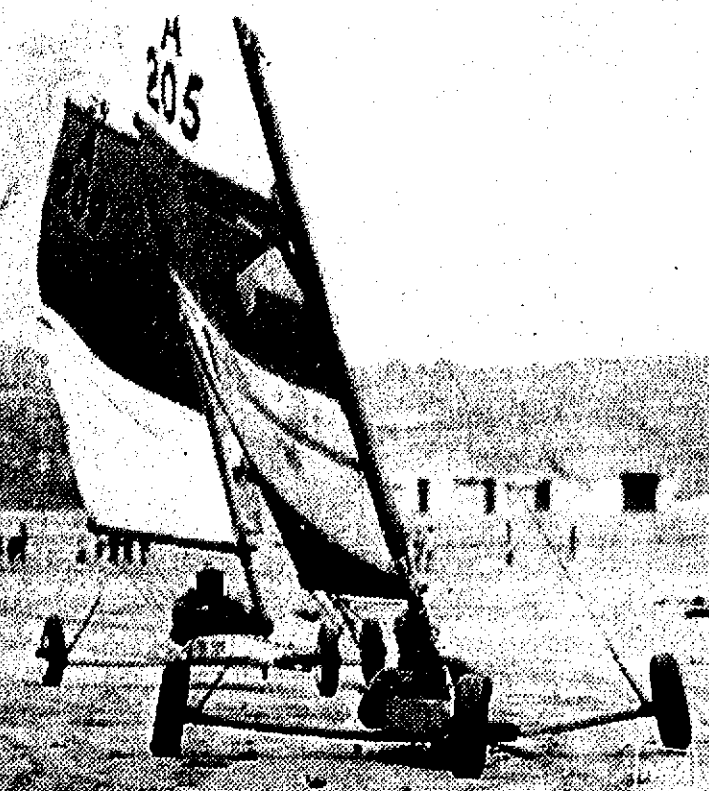

Tiant admitted that he was tired from pitching 6 1-3 innings Sunday but said he could go two hard innings.

"This is most important start in my life," Tiant said. "It's one of the biggest breaks I've ever had."

Williams said he started Tiant because "I think he's a damn fine pitcher. We may not have the name guys they have on the National League squad, but we do have some fellows who can play this game."

Officials said an estimated 55 million persons will watch the game over the National Broadcasting Co. television hookup in the United States, with another eight million viewing in Mexico. Joe Medwick, former Cardinal great and latest member of the Hall of Fame, will throw out the first ball.

Both All-Star teams came into the game with rather anemic batting averages. Team average for the AL is .263, with Yastrzemski at .301, the only .300 hitter in the starting line-up. The National has a .279 average, with starters Curt Flood of St. Louis and Tommy Helms of Cincinnati hitting .316 and .302, respectively.

BORN SAILORS, the English will use sand when water isn't available. Sand yachting doesn't have the prestige of its water counterpart, but it's a growing sport in many countries. This photo was made in Perranporth, England.

Williams said he plans to follow Tiant with John "Blue Moon" Odom of Oakland. He said Odom pitched last Friday and would be well rested.

Schoendienst said he wasn't certain who would follow Drysdale, who has a 1.37 earned run average and set a record of 58 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings earlier this season. It will be Drysdale's fifth All-Star start, be Drysdale's fifth All-Star start, tying the record.

Casper Bids for British Open Title

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer
CARNOSTIE, Scotland (AP) — Bill Casper gave the 1968 British Open Golf Championship the Carbo treatment and said today that this might be the way to tune up for a little every professional in the world envies.

The 37-year-old San Diego, Calif., professional who has won more than a quarter of a million dollars on the American circuit in the past two years, approached Wednesday's opening of the 72-hole contest in the loneliest manner possible.

Casper went around Carnoustie's fearsome 7,252-yard, par-72 layout by himself Monday.

"I discovered the course," he said quietly.

Before that, he went to two Sunday services of the Latter Day Saints in Dundee, as a recent convert to Mormonism. On Saturday, he addressed a Latter Day Saint's youth meeting.

While none of this seems to have anything to do with golf, Casper is convinced it has.

On top of that, he said he needs such interim breaks to keep him steady, nerveless and keen.

The bookmakers must be impressed.

Without any kind of practice round or scores worth talking about, Casper still is rated as at 5-1 for the title, just behind Jack Nicklaus, the 9-2 favorite.

The rating is remarkable when one considers that Casper never has played Carnoustie, never has competed in the British Open, and is somewhat of a stranger to British golf except for Ryder Cup appearances.

If Casper, straight from tee to green and one of the really great putters, says he has discovered the Carnoustie layout, the bookies might turn out to be more than right.

76ers Tell of Wilt's Departure

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers hold a press conference today to tell the sports world what it already knows — that Wilt Chamberlain has been dealt to the Los Angeles Lakers in one of the major trades in National Basketball Association history.

A 76ers' spokesman said Monday night that simultaneous press conferences would be held at Los Angeles and Philadelphia to make an announcement. The subject matter was not revealed, but The Associated Press reported Friday that the trade already has been consummated.

The 7-foot-1 center, greatest offensive player in the history of basketball, was swapped to the Lakers for All-Star guard Archie Clark, veteran center Darrell Imhoff and second-year forward Jerry Chambers, plus an undisclosed amount of cash.

Jack Ramsay, the 76ers' general manager for three years, has been named to succeed Alex Hannum as coach. Hannum resigned after the 1967-68 campaign to go with Oakland of the rival American Basketball Association.

But although Ramsay will preside at the Philadelphia news conference at 1 p.m. at the Spectrum Sports Arena, the announcement of his appointment probably will not be made then.

The 76ers may withhold it for a week or so to give the Chamberlain deal maximum news coverage.

Although the trade was closed as early as last week — or possibly earlier — it was not immediately announced because of the difficulty in coming to contract terms with the players, The Associated Press learned.

GUARDING OUR BORDER against agricultural pests, U.S. Department of Agriculture inspectors examine all fruits, plants, vegetables and seeds entering the country by mail, truck, rail or individual traveler. Few realize that foreign produce could hide insects or plant diseases that would seriously damage U.S. crops, forests or shrubs. One piece of fruit, a vegetable, a plant or a package of seeds is all it takes to give a "hitchhiking" pest the lift it needs to cross mountains or deserts and start an outbreak. Five deadly outbreaks in the last 40 years have cost taxpayers more than $21 million. To prevent this from happening again, all agricultural items must be presented to inspectors at the border for clearance when entering the United States.

Banks Deny Power Is 'Snowballing'

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Banking leaders deny charges in a congressional study that the power of some of the nation's commercial banks is snowballing dangerously.

"Misleading," said a spokesman for New York's Chase Manhattan Bank after a House banking subcommittee study was released Monday.

"Exaggerations, half-truths and ridiculous conclusions," said a spokesman for Cleveland Trust.

Subcommittee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., asked Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark to look into possible antitrust questions raised by the study, which was compiled by the panel's staff but has not yet been formally adopted.

"The American economy of today is in the greatest danger of being dominated by a handful of corporations in a single industry as it has been since the great money trusts of the early 1900s," Patman said.

"A few banking institutions are in a position to exercise significant influence, and perhaps even control, over some of the largest business enterprises in the nation," he added.

Main thrust of the study was its contention that banks' influence is exerted largely through the estimated $607 billion assets which banks hold as trustees for pension funds, foundations, private trusts and other actual owners.

More than 54 per cent of the total trust assets in the nation are held by 49 banks in 10 large cities, the subcommittee said.

And these same 49 banks, it added, "hold a total of 766 interlocking directorships with 286 of the 500 largest industrial corporations in the United States."

The airline and nonferrous metals industries, plus newspaper and magazine publishing companies were cited as examples where bank trust departments hold large blocks of stock.

"The implication that important amounts of New York stock are held by the trust department of a bank is wrong," said a spokesman for the Long Island, N.Y., paper.

He said that the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York at one time did hold stock in trust as an executor but not now.

Morgan Guaranty also was listed in the report as holding large blocks of stock in Trans World Airlines and United Airlines.

"If we were interested in influencing competition we obviously would have increased these holdings," said Thomas S. Gates, Morgan chairman. "We have done the opposite. Some time ago, solely for investment reasons, we disposed of most of our airlines stocks and put these funds to work in other industries."

Officers of the Bank of America in San Francisco, the country's largest bank, were not available for comment.

But the spokesman for Cleveland Trust, one of the banks studied by the subcommittee, said "banks traditionally have had large boards of directors representing major elements of a community's business."

"To avoid interlocks you would have to elect directors with no business experience or connections whatsoever. This would not be in the best interests of anyone."

Nixon Not Impressed by Polls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he is confident his primary victories will lead to the Republican presidential nomination, even should public opinion polls favor rival Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Public opinion polls involve only "about 3,000 people" across the country, Nixon said in Springfield, N.J., Monday, and he said he doubted Republican National Convention delegates would be swayed by them.

"I have the same thing going for me that Eugene McCarthy has," said Nixon referring to primary victories. "But I think that the Republican party will listen to the people and I don't think the Democrats will."

Nixon had said earlier the Democratic convention "will go the way of the bosses" and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will get the nomination despite Democratic primary victories for McCarthy and the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, meanwhile, brushed aside new talk by GOP presidential aspirant Rockefeller of a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket.

"I've made my position very plain," Reagan said at an airport news conference in Sacramento. "I'm not interested in the vice presidency at all."

Rockefeller had said in San Francisco the possibility of such a GOP ticket is "wide open . . . I don't think that any combination should be ruled out or should there be a freezing of any situation."

Reagan refused to comment on the New York governor's statement the Californian is a more serious presidential contender than he admits.

"There's no sense commenting on what his opinion is," Reagan said.

On the Democratic side, Humphrey told more than 2,000 underprivileged youngsters in Washington he is committed to seeing that all young Americans get "all the education they can take" and adequate food and housing.

Humphrey appeared at a kickoff clinic of the Vice President's Summer Youth, Sports and Recreation Program. He said 50 more clinics will be conducted this summer in the nation's largest cities.

In other political developments:

—Some 60 Alabama college students are going door-to-door for petition signatures to get third party candidate George C. Wallace's name on Massachusetts' November ballot as Wallace conducts a concerted drive in the state.

—Allard K. Lowenstein, a leader of Democratic anti-Vietnam policy forces, says they are considering a "national primary" conducted by mail or at unofficial polling booths, intended to demonstrate Humphrey could not win the presidency.

—Nixon has 501 of the 687 votes needed for a first-ballot GOP nomination and Rockefeller has 192 in an Associated Press survey of delegates pledged, committed or publicly stating voting intentions. Humphrey has 677% of the 1,312 votes needed for a first-ballot Democratic nomination and McCarthy has 414.

—Rep. Rogers Morton, R-Md., Nixon's newly appointed convention floor manager, says he believed the former vice president would win the nomination on an early ballot but says he does not expect a first-ballot victory.

—New Jersey McCarthy and Kennedy supporters have announced they are forming a "joint steering committee" to urge that major campaign planks of both men be included in the Democratic presidential platform.

—Mayor Richard J. Daley says it is "plausible and possible" the electrical workers' strike that threatens to move the Democratic National Convention from Chicago could be settled within a week.

Science "Grows" New Grass Anywhere

"Remarkable new outdoor and indoor uses for the fantastic man-made grass created for the huge Houston Astrodome may sharply change sports and recreation facilities throughout America."

That prediction was made recently by John Hollister, research director at the Polyken Tape Laboratories of the Kendall Company at Barrington, Illinois.

"As soon as people learn about the new surfacing materials we will see changes to permit much more use of gymnasiums, athletic fields, stadia, recreation areas, and golf courses," Hollister said.

Year-Round Stadium Use

The variety of uses for the new material are enormous, according to Hollister, whose company developed a tape used to hold the underlayment together. He cited the following example to dramatize his point:

Because heavy rains often made the surface of the field of Municipal Stadium in Seattle unplayable, the field was paved with asphalt last September. It was then covered with thick strips of polyester padding, firmly taped together with a new wonder tape called Polyken 213, and then covered with Astro Turf, the Monsanto Chemical Company's artificial grass.

The "grass," embedded in a thick foam rubber backing, looks and feels like real grass, and is extremely durable. Spikes or cleats can not tear or harm it. Traction is excellent even in rubber soled shoes without cleats.

This was the first major out-

Bea Gale Schenken of New York and Sally Johnson of Westport, Conn., won the Women's Pairs in the Eastern Championship with better than a 73 per cent game for the two sessions.

You have to be lucky to get that good a score, but you also have to go about making Dame Fortune smile on you.

Bea's four club bid in the sample hand was Gerber. She decided to gamble on a slam if her partner held at least two aces and wanted to be dummy. With two aces Sally would have replied four spades and Bea would have raised to six spades. Thus, the Gerber would have had the effect of a transfer bid. When Sally bid four no-trump showing three aces, Bea placed the contract in six no-trump.

At first glance the slam does not seem a very good one. Without a 3-3 diamond break there is no real play for it but West suffered from an embarrassment of riches and Sally made it by an unusual form of Vienna coup.

West opened the king of hearts and Sally allowed it to hold. She was not going to make more than 12 tricks in any event and wanted to set up a possible squeeze situation on an extra chance.

West continued with the queen of hearts and Sally was in. She overtook her jack of spades with dummy's queen and led the jack of clubs to her ace. This early club play constituted the Vienna coup since it set up the king and queen of clubs as high cards. It was also essential that she get her ace of clubs out of the way at some early stage.

Then she ran off the spade suit discarding her hearts and clubs. The last spade squeezed West. He had to let a diamond go to hang on to a high club and Sally had her slam.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Behind Prison Walls

On an average day, nearly half a million men and women languish behind bars in the nation's jails. All of them suffer from an obvious legal disability: they cannot leave. But what about legal rights? Do prisoners have rights, like those of people on the outside, which can be enforced in the courtroom?

By and large, courts have followed a "hands off" policy with regard to our prisons. As one judge put it:

"It is not the function of the courts to superintend the treatment and discipline of prisoners."

However, in recent years there has been a marked change in this attitude. With growing frequency, courts have struck down prison rules and regulations on constitutional grounds.

"One committed to prison," commented a federal court, "does not leave his constitutional rights at the gates."

Consider, for example, the writing and receiving of letters. Courts have long upheld the power of prison officials to censor the mail. But according to a recent decision, this power may not be used to block a prisoner's access to the courts.

In another case, a court ruled that a prisoner was entitled to reasonable use of legal books and materials.

And in a third case, a court sustained a prisoner's right to better medical care than he had been getting. In fact, federal prisoners now have the right to collect damages if they suffer injuries as the result of official negligence. One recent verdict came to more than $100,000.

Nevertheless, while the legal rights of prisoners have been expanding, they are still limited. For if carried to excess, these rights might sabotage the very operation of the prison system.

Thus, while courts have upheld the right of prisoners to religious observance, they have drawn the line at the preaching of organized disobedience.

For, after all, this is a community not of ordinary people but of convicted criminals doing penance for their crimes. They do have rights. But those rights must remain subject to the practical necessities of prison life.

SHAGGY HORSES are Przewalskis, the only existing species of truly wild horse. The breed hails from a small area of Mongolia, near the China border. Less than 200 are in captivity; these two are at New York's Bronx Zoo. Duncolor and with stiff black mane and thin, bristly tail, the Przewalski resembles to a great degree the likenesses of horses painted on caves by stone-age hunters.

Continuance of Pills Matter for Own Doctor

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I have a heart murmur. My doctor is giving me Isordil with PB, Dyazide and PMB. Are there any bad side effects from these drugs? What are they for? Will I have to take them as long as I live?

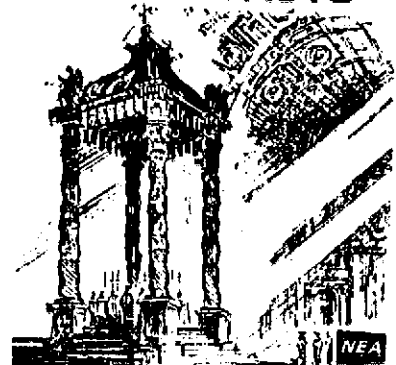

A—Isosorbide dinitrate (Isordil) is given to prevent or relieve attacks of angina pectoris. Side effects include flushing of the skin, headache, dizziness and weakness. When combined with phenobarbital (PB), it may be habit-forming.

Dyazide is a water pill and blood pressure reducer. Its side effects are dry mouth, headache, dizziness, weakness and nausea. PMB contains a female hormone and a tranquilizer. Such side effects as drowsiness, dizziness and nausea may occur but are rare. How long you should continue to take these drugs would depend on your symptoms. The decision should be left up to your doctor.

LBJ May Be Planning World Tour

By FRANK CORMIER

A Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The announcement President Johnson has agreed to meet with South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu this month has increased speculation Johnson plans a busy season of globetrotting.

The President had returned from Central America—jetting to all five republics there in seven hours Monday—only hours before Thieu's office in Saigon announced the meeting planned in Honolulu about July 20.

There already had been strong speculation that Johnson, who made a 4½-day around-the-world tour last December, might range all over the map during the coming weeks.

There was talk of possible Johnson trips to Africa, Asia, South America and Europe—perhaps even to Moscow—before his term ends.

Wherever he goes, Johnson would be hard pressed to top Monday's record of five countries between breakfast and mid-afternoon. Starting out in El Salvador, he traveled 1,050 miles to Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Honduras and Guatemala.

When he reached Guatemala City, last stop before returning to his Texas ranch for a brief stay, the chief executive was exactly 95 miles away from his starting point, the city of San Salvador.

Johnson was the first U.S. president to visit all five nations of Central America. In effect, he operated a homewardbound ferrying service for the presidents of the other countries who had joined him at the weekend Latin summit in San Salvador.

Each of Monday's stops followed a pattern: Johnson never left the airports, stayed in each country about an hour, exchanged formal speeches with the host presidents and mingled with leading citizens at informal receptions.

Warm greetings everywhere also were part of the pattern. Few sour notes were struck, people cheered lustily and rushed to touch him. Many talked about amity and friendship and waved American flags.

At Guatemala City, however, the greeting was the least spontaneous because those on hand were present only by invitation. The Guatemalan government is beset from left and right.

So, as Johnson roamed through a champagne reception in the striking new airport terminal, combat troops carrying submachine guns mingled with the guests.

The President's purpose in going to Central America was to dramatize progress by the region's seven-year-old common market and point to the unfinished tasks ahead.

Delinquency Control Is Voted Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a three-year, $150-million program to help various state and local projects aimed at preventing juvenile delinquency and rehabilitating already delinquent youths.

The measure, approved by voice vote Monday, falls short of the $250 million for four years sought by President Johnson but is far greater than the House version.

The House has approved $25 million for one year and the conflict must be resolved before the funds can be appropriated. Under the Senate bill, states could receive block grants for redistribution to their localities by submitting a plan to the federal government.

They also could compete directly with communities for grants or could apply directly for money to supplement other programs, such as education and job training, which are related to preventing delinquency.

Protests Postal Man in Politics

CALICO ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Bobby K. Hayes of Calico Rock, one of three Democrats running against Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said Monday he had asked the Civil Service Administration to reprimand Wickes Postmaster Fred Sullivan for appearing on a television news program.

Hayes says Sullivan's appearance on the show, which was concerned with Fulbright's bid for re-election, violated the Hatch Act, which prohibits federal employees from being active in partisan politics.

Hayes said early Monday that he was forced to participate in the show and that he would not press the issue.

He was later informed, however, that Sullivan had said no pressure had been brought to bear.

"If that's the attitude he's taking, I guess we'll just have to be a little tougher on him," Hayes said. "I didn't want to get this old man fired, but you have to be tougher in politics than you do in business, I guess."

Sullivan said he agreed to appear on the program at the request of a television man who asked him if he would discuss the "county's situation."

"I thought I was doing a community service . . ." Sullivan said. "I explained that I couldn't talk about political matters and all I did was discuss the county's economic situation."

Fulbright was not available for comment. Sullivan, who has been postmaster at Wickes for seven years, said he was sorry Hayes had decided to take legal action.

Hawkins Says Verdict Favorable

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins was ordered Monday to pay $10,082.20 to the county treasury, but he said the court's opinion was not as unfavorable to him as it might first appear.

The order, issued by Circuit Judge Bobby Steel of Nashville, resulted from a taxpayers suit that originally charged Hawkins with misappropriating more than $200,000 from 1954 to 1966.

Steel, acting as a special chancellor, ruled Jan. 21 that Hawkins' affairs prior to 1963 were not under the jurisdiction of the court because of the statute of limitations.

Steel said there was no willful wrongdoing, but that the sums claimed by Hawkins as cash refunds did not coincide with the records of the Justices of the Peace.

"Let me point out that the court found that these payments were actually paid by me but because of the technicality as to specific cases he (Steel) did not think I was entitled to credit," Hawkins said.

"I know that the Justices of the Peace feel badly about failing to make written orders when they ordered a bond or a fine refunded and their failure to do something that they should have done may reflect

Hopeful of Ending Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley says he is confident the electrical workers' strike which threatens to move the Democratic National Convention from Chicago can be resolved very soon.

The mayor met Monday with Robert A. Nickey, chairman of Systems Council T-4, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. The union of installers and repair specialists struck Illinois Bell Telephone Co. May 8 and their absence has prevented installation of communications equipment at the International Amphitheatre, the convention site.

Daley said after the meeting, "I have made several new suggestions and I'm confident this can be resolved very soon, if not in a day or two, within a week."

"We should stop worrying about the convention. It's going to be held here and it's going to be the finest convention ever held in the United States," Daley said.

James W. Cook, president of Illinois Bell, said installers would have had to get into the Amphitheatre Monday if they were to complete the installations of all the requested communications equipment by the convention opening Aug. 26.

However, Nickey estimated it would take only 30 days to set up facilities for the convention, which is 49 days away. He also said he is "very hopeful" the strike will be settled soon.

A company spokesman said: "I wouldn't say Nickey is dead wrong about installing equipment in 30 days with around-the-clock work, but work should start shortly or we will never be finished on time."

Preparation for the convention has been proceeding with Bell supervisory personnel. However, it is feared picket lines would keep other craftsmen out of the Amphitheatre if the supervisory personnel try to install extra telephones, Teletype and television equipment.

There have been rumors that the convention might be shifted to another city because of the labor dispute. But Democratic leaders have asserted it will be held in Chicago.

The union is asking a wage increase of $19.50 a week for the first year of a new contract, plus $10 a week for the remaining six months of the current contract. The company has offered $26 over three years. Top-rated workers now get $160.50 a week.

on me personally," Hawkins said.

Steel said the court believes the "law to be that when money is traced into the sheriff's possession, the duty then devolves on the sheriff to show a legal expenditure of the said money."

"The court is convinced that the defendant, Hawkins, has in good faith performed his duties as sheriff in accordance with accepted customs and practices," Steel wrote. He said the court believes "Marlin Hawkins actually paid out all the money to the people just as he claims and as the witnesses testified."

Hawkins called the ruling a "moral victory."

"The entire affair has been nothing more than a political persecution by Gene Wirges and the Republicans," Hawkins told a news conference. "The charges against me were aimed at my political persecution, personal harassment in an attempt to discredit me, my family, Conway County and the Democratic party."

Hawkins said it was no secret that Wirges, a former newspaperman, was "one of the main investigators."

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said anyone who had read the record of the suit could determine that Democrats were involved in the suit along with Republicans.

"There are many disenchanted Democrats also in Conway County," Rockefeller said. "I don't feel this is any victory for Marlin Hawkins."

Steel ordered Hawkins to pay 6 per cent annual interest on the $10,082.20 until the total is paid.

Hawkins was to account for more than $63,000 from 1963 to 1966 during the trial which began Dec. 11, 1967.

The decree said Hawkins was to pay some money in each of the four years. The largest amount was $5,218 for 1963.

Hawkins said the court's judgment wrongly included $3,081.91, which he said was being held in his office "awaiting full payment of the fines and costs at which time the entire amount would be paid to the county."

1970 Census to Be Taken by Mail

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The old-fashioned census taker is going to be replaced by a count-by-mail and computer system in most of the country during the 1970 headcounting.

The Census Bureau says about 60 per cent of the population will be asked to count itself by filling out and returning mailed questionnaires.

Those who don't—and the bureau figures there will be a number, particularly in slum areas—will get a visit from the census taker.

The next census starts April 1, 1970, and will be the 19th general head count conducted by the federal government which is required by the Constitution to count its citizens every 10 years.

In the last census, bureau employees visited each household and collected a completed questionnaire which had been mailed in advance.

But with more than 200 million heads to count in 1970, the bureau is trying to step up its efficiency and cut costs in the process.

The mail-by-census technique, in the testing stage since 1961, will be conducted only in the large metropolitan areas where most Americans now live. Four out of every five counties will be counted the old way.

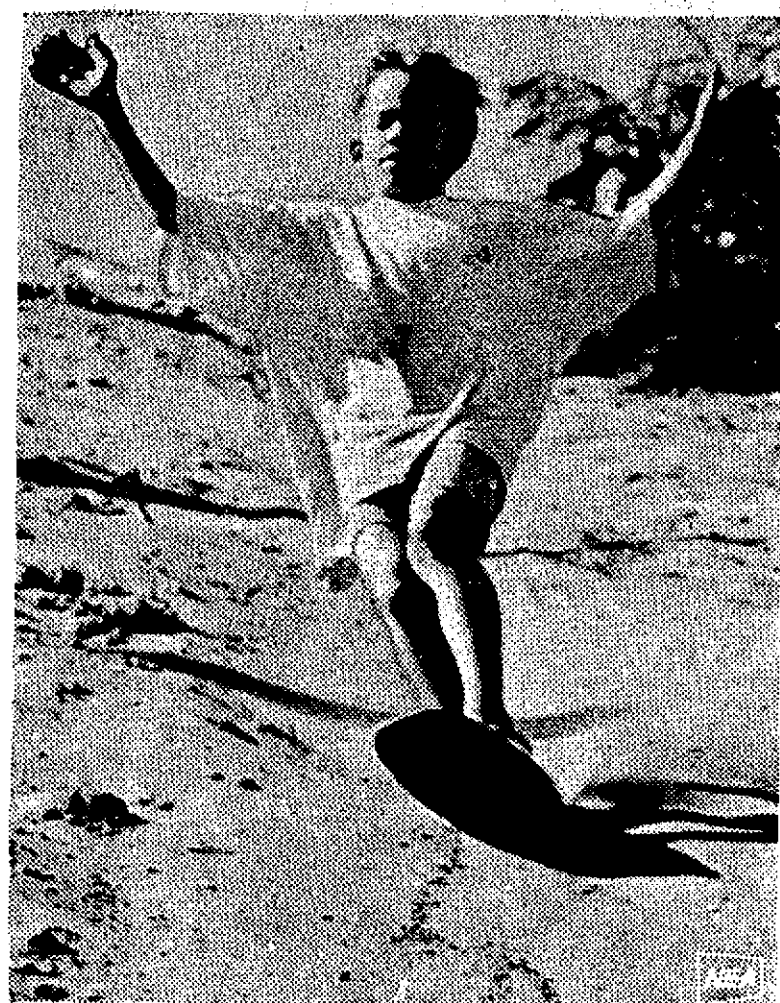

In tests of the two-way mailing thus far, the bureau reported cooperation ranging up to 91 per cent. But it admits to problems in the Negro slums.

Tests in Philadelphia and Cleveland showed about one-third compliance in low-income areas, a bureau spokesman said.

One purpose of these tests is to devise methods to improve the record.

For the next census the Bureau plans to set up about 400 district offices to handle about 500,000 persons each. Each district will handle its operations in only one way—either by two-way mail or by visits from a census taker to collect forms mailed in advance.

Thus, some households in some large metropolitan areas—such as Little Rock and Des Moines—will receive questionnaires by mail but will return them to the census taker, not the postman.

CONFIDENCE of youth is displayed by this expert who keeps a wary lookout for hidden obstacles.

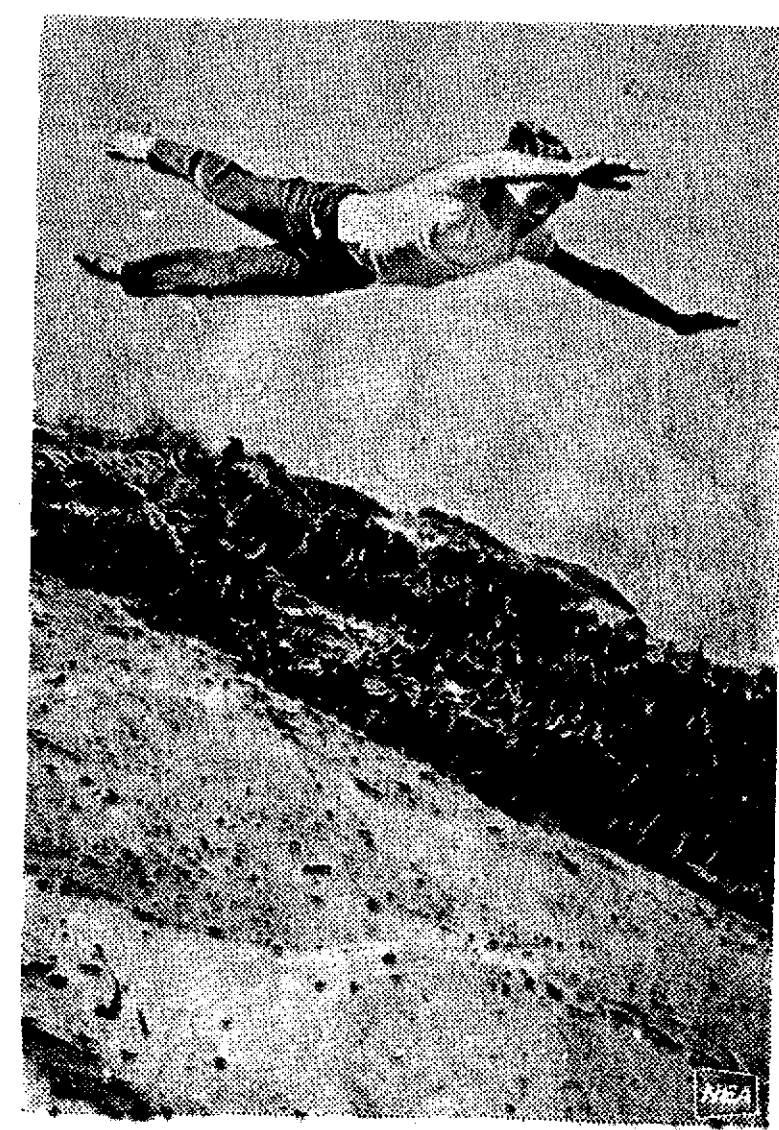

CLOSE to home, new sport requires no trek to the beach: just a sliver of wood, a sandy slope and nerve.

A new sport which is taking West Coast youngsters by storm has all the thrills and spills of real surfing, yet can be enjoyed hundreds of miles from the beach. All that is needed is a steep hill, a small slab of wood and the nerve to go roaring downwards at breakneck speed. The heart of sand surfing is the surfboard, usually homemade of a piece of soft wood three to five feet long and two to six inches wide. The bottom is then waxed with paraffin to insure easy sliding over the sand at top speed. Young sand surfers improvise quickly, organizing contests and jump events. Nemesis of the sand surfer is the unseen obstacle—a soft drink bottle half-buried in the sand or a hidden clump of weeds can result in head-or feet-first "wipeout."

TANGLE of arms and legs results when several kids "wipe-out" at once, using a discarded full-sized surfboard.

SWAN DIVE ends this young surfer's ride. Soft, white sand is considered best for the sport, but grass or dirt-covered slopes will do.

BREAKING UP a couple of old pros like Bob Hope and Phyllis Diller is quite an accomplishment for Michael Burr, left, who's not even a comedian, but a dramatic actor. The trio is making a film in Puerto Rico; perhaps this story should be included in the script.

Notes on the Road

Preoccupation on something not connected with the car can make the most veteran of tourists look foolish.

On Saturday, June 22, I struck out from the Arkansas Press Association convention in Hot Springs for Florida, listening to the St. Louis Cardinals ball game on the car radio. I was getting it on the KXAR button, being the 1490 station in Pine Bluff. Down around Dermott, on U.S. 65 heading for Tallulah, La., I woke up to the fact that I had changed stations without hitting the button. Now I was listening to a 1490 station in Mississippi — but because it and Pine Bluff were carrying the ball game the switch wasn't noticeable.

Sunday morning, June 23, I headed south from Jackson, Miss., for Mobile — and was preoccupied with the problem of finding a station carrying the Cardinals game. Nos. 49 and 98 run south from Jackson to Hattiesburg, a route I have traveled many times — so many times I didn't bother to consult the map. And I knew, as well as the next man, that the roads split at Hattiesburg, 98 going to Mobile and 49 to Gulfport. But I was preoccupied with the radio search.

Hattiesburg came and went, and pretty soon I began to be disturbed by the fact I wasn't seeing any Mobile mileage signs. Pretty soon a marker showed up giving me the distance to Biloxi. I was due in Mobile about 11 a.m., but at 11 a.m. I was in Gulfport — 60 miles out of my way to the west — all because of a ball game.

I quickly found out that in the Southeast they don't give a tinker's darn about the St. Louis Cardinals. Down there the home team is the Atlanta Braves. St. Louis' next series was with Atlanta, so I heard it on the 50-station network of the Braves. But after that there was a week's dead-pan silence on anything about the Cardinals.

Even in the newspapers. Bob Gibson had his historic clash with Don Drysdale in Los Angeles Monday night, July 1, in Los Angeles, but it wasn't until Tuesday night, July 2, that I found the score in the evening Press at Mobile, where I stopped on my way home from Florida.

These so-called morning newspapers which go to press so early they carry no night games at all aren't confined to Arkansas, believe me. You'll find the same shortage all over the Southeast.

You're read about the controversial cross-state canal which the federal government is cutting through upper Florida so ocean barges from Texas and Louisiana can reach the Atlantic without going around Key West. Well, I crossed it twice on my Florida trip.

I knew it had to be south of the Suwannee River, otherwise it would have ruined that beautiful stream. Actually, the cross-state canal starts on the Gulf side at Inglis, Fla., 100 miles north of St. Petersburg. You cross it on U.S. 19, on the run south from Tallahassee to St. Petersburg.

Far down the highway you see what looks like a towering concrete road-block. It turns out to be a high-rise bridge, fixed, with no drawbridge, since it is high enough to clear barges and good-sized ships. It looks complete, as viewed from No. 19 — but actually it lacks many miles and several years of being finished to the Florida East Coast.

Equal Pay on Teaching Is Sought

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas (Negro) Teachers Association filed suit Monday in U.S. District Court asking that the Portland (Ashley County) and Star City School Districts be ordered to pay white and Negro teachers the same salaries.

The suit says white teachers are paid more than Negro teachers in the districts. It also asks that Negro teachers be given back pay to compensate for getting smaller salaries.

The suit says Negro teachers were paid an average of $1,065 less than white teachers in the Portland District.

Registration of Guns Is Dealt Blow

A By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading congressional advocate of federal registration and licensing of guns has taken a major step toward killing a bill to achieve that goal.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee told the House Rules Committee Monday he would oppose any effort to pass a registration and licensing bill if it would endanger a proposal to ban the mail-order sales of rifles and shotguns.

The Rules Committee had the mail-order bill before it today. "While I'm in favor of registration and licensing," Celler said, "I'm anxious to get a rule on this bill," by which he meant he wanted the proposal in mail-order sales sent to the House floor.

He went on: "In order to get a rule, I'm willing to oppose any amendment offered on the floor of the House dealing with registration and licensing. In conference, I will oppose any attempt to add registration as an amendment to this bill."

President Johnson had proposed to Congress that the ban on the mail-order sale of pistols contained in the recently passed omnibus crime bill be extended to rifles and shotguns. He also asked for the registration of all guns and the licensing of their owners.

Celler was joined by Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, ranking Republican on the Judiciary Committee in opposing the registration bill.

McCulloch said he would oppose the registration bill "with-out qualification. I am fearful that registration legislation at this time would endanger this bill."

He also told the committee he would not have made such a statement "had not I felt that the overwhelming majority if not all the minority felt that way," referring to the Republican members of the judiciary committee.

Several members of the rules committee indicated they could vote for a ban on sales but would oppose the registration of firearms.

Celler and McCulloch would be part of the House team to iron out any differences in House-Senate conference in bills passed by the two bodies.

If opposed to any measure, they could prevent any agreement between the House and the Senate.

Chairman William M. Colmer of the House Rules Committee said he expected a bill banning the interstate sales of firearms to pass the House but he believed it would be weakened by amendments from the floor.

He said many such amendments had been suggested during the hearing of his committee which lasted some six hours Monday, even though the meeting was broken up often by roll call votes on the floor.

Several witnesses appearing before Colmer's committee opposed giving the measure a rule which would prevent it from reaching the floor.

John Hickey Heads Crime Commission

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — John H. Hickey, an FBI special agent for nine years, was named Monday to succeed Lynn Davis as executive director of the Governor's Commission on Crime and Law Enforcement.

Hickey, 40, was one of 12 applicants for the $15,000-a-year job, which is described as non-political.

Hickey, who has been farming at Pine Bluff for the past four years, said his first move would be to determine the needs for improved law enforcement in the state.

Vaccination Required of All Students

James H. Jones, superintendent of schools, announced today that ACHT 244 requiring all children to be immunized against polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, and measles went into effect July 1, 1967. Section 1 of the act is stated as follows: No child shall be admitted to a public or private school of this state who has not been immunized from poliomyelitis, diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, and red (rubella) measles, as evidenced by a certificate of a licensed physician, or a public health department, acknowledging same.

Smallpox vaccination and a birth certificate is also required for all students entering first grade.

Parents are urged to see about the above regulations before school opening. It will save time and inconvenience and delay entering children in school. No child will be enrolled without a birth certificate, smallpox vaccination, and a certificate of above immunizations.

Curb Knocked Out by Citizens

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Before 2,000 protesting citizens the City Council rescinded today a policy statement limiting police use of guns.

Councilman Harold Silva changed his vote to revoke the action taken last week after a Negro youth had been shot and wounded in an incident that touched off four days of racial disorders.

The result came after businessman C. J. Dougherty declared he had 10,000 names on a petition "expressing outrage over making our policemen little more than traffic patrolmen regulating unruly mobs with nothing more than pencils and notebooks."

In a policy statement last Monday, the council said that policemen should not use guns unless it was necessary to protect their own lives or those of citizens.

Wednesday, City Manager Kenneth Smith issued an order blocking the council's action, saying it counteracted state law.

The council met again after petitions began circulating and the session ran into the early morning hours.

Another speaker from the audience was James Vann, Northern California chairman of the Peace and Freedom party, who contended the John Birch Society "brought out" the large crowd.

"I want to support the police not just when they are clubbing black heads, but when they are enforcing equal employment laws and fair housing laws," Vann said.

The youth wounded at the beginning of the disorders, Charles Mims, 15, was shot by a reserve policeman while fleeing from a car police said had been stolen.

Minor Damage in 2 Traffic Mishaps

Hope Police department investigated an accident Monday afternoon at 2:15 p.m. on East Third Street where a car driven by Mrs. Arthur Storch of Hope, Minn. or damage resulted. No charges were filed. Officers Neal and Long investigated.

At 5:10 p.m. Monday, Sgt. Reed Clark investigated a minor accident on East Second Street when a car driven by Martha Stroud, attempting to park in front of B & B Supermarket, collided with a car already parked, owned by Mrs. Dewey Camp. No charges were filed. There was minor damage to both vehicles.

Nixon Far Out in Front in Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — With four weeks to go before the Republican National Convention begins, Richard M. Nixon pushed just past the three-quarter mark Monday, in terms of publicly committed delegates, toward a first-ballot nomination for president.

In an Associated Press tabulation of first-ballot intentions of the Miami Beach delegates, as dictated by primary results, pledged at the time of election or stated in an AP poll, the former vice president had 501 of the required 667 votes.

The biggest pick-up of the past week was at least 25 Texas delegates who went along when Sen. John G. Tower dropped a favorite son stance and went to Nixon.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller stood at 192 in the table.

The Republicans had only eight more delegates to pick, in Utah the coming weekend, to fill their 1,333 convention seats.

Backing favorite sons or otherwise at least ostensibly on the fence were 589 delegates, plus 43 outside of California who had picked Gov. Ronald Reagan, that state's favorite son.

In the same tabulation Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey stood at 677 of the 1,312 needed for first-ballot nomination in the Chicago Democratic Convention opening Aug. 26.

Trailing at 414 was Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Another 15 votes were scattered among various others.

More than half of the total Democratic convention roster of 2,622 was uncommitted in public at that point. That situation was still sharply complicated by the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy which shifted more than 300 votes from him to the uncommitted category. The bulk of those still had not stated a new choice, thus helping build up the total of 7794 generally uncommitted. The favorite son total was 5374.

The Democrats had just under 100 more votes to allot.

Like a House's Attic Man's Mind Needs a Corner for Memories

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Every house should have an attic in which to store those things we don't need at the moment but may require later, things too good to throw away.

Every life should have an attic of this kind, too, and every life does—a room of the mind where we retain things which may be a bit out of style but are too precious to discard.

You've got a pretty extensive memory attic if you can look back and remember when— You could buy a two-seated survey with a fringe on the top for $48.40.

Marines Win 2-Day Fight, Killing 89

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — A series of clashes broke out Monday and today around Saigon and in the far northwest, two flash points where big battles are expected soon.

In South Vietnam's northwest corner, U.S. Marines reported killing another 89 North Vietnamese in a two-day running battle near the abandoned Khe Sanh combat base. Thirteen Marines were killed and 68 wounded. Since Friday, when fighting erupted on the eastern edge of the demilitarized zone, Marines have reported killing 290 enemy troops along the northern frontier.

A Marine company fought the North Vietnamese for 3½ hours ending Sunday night. Another Marine company relieved and came under an attack Monday that lasted for five hours.

Two companies of the 101st Airborne Division blocking infiltration routes reported killing 21 enemy soldiers 28 miles northwest of Saigon in a battle that raged into the night. Four Americans were killed and 13 wounded. The companies had artillery and helicopter gunship support.

U.S. 9th Division infantrymen fought for an hour today with an enemy force 19 miles southwest of Saigon and reported killing

Court Is Blamed for Crime Wave

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. Senate candidate Foster Johnson of Little Rock blamed the U.S. Supreme Court Monday for the crime rate in the country, and added that gun control legislation is not the solution.

"A lot of the perverted rulings by the Supreme Court have had a tendency to give the criminal a license, so to speak, to commit crime," Johnson. "I don't feel like the law-abiding citizen should be subjected to licensing, questioning and registration of his gun because of the inadequacy of law enforcement resulting from questionable decisions by a perverted Supreme Court."

"The solution to deter crime and criminals is strengthening the hand of our law enforcement officers and to make it crystal clear that criminals should pay for their crimes," Johnson said.

During the flapper era of the 1920s—40 years before the arrival of the miniskirt—it was agreed by headshaking moralists that women had never worn less in public, or looked worse.

Flareup on Sun Hits Radio Reception; to Reoccur Wednesday

By BURL OSBORNE
Associated Press Writer
BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — The biggest and brightest solar flare since 1966 fouled up short-wave radio communications around the world Monday, the U.S. Space Disturbance Forecast Center reported.

And, according to the government scientists, there's a better than even chance of further radio trouble from the same flare on Wednesday, with the signs of the sun pointing to more big solar flares in the not-too-distant future.

The sun appeared no larger or brighter than usual to anyone venturing a glance with his naked eye at 1:33 p.m. EDT.

But delicate sun-watching instruments here, and at a dozen "flare patrol" stations around the world, recorded a big change.

Scientists saw a large, intense white spot appear on the red mass the sun appears to be when viewed through their flare-filtering instruments. The spot was the flare, caused by an intensification and heating up of

Boswell to Tour Hope Wednesday

Ted Boswell, Democratic candidate for governor, will tour Hope Wednesday, July 10, in an effort to meet voters and confer with them as to their ideas on the needs of the state.

"I have consistently promised to help provide the necessary leadership for those neglected and forgotten citizens — comprising an entirely new generation — an attitude not an age — to rightfully reclaim what they have been 'wrongfully denied,'" Boswell said. "Therefore I must confer with the people themselves, and thereby assure them of my sincerity and my belief in them."

"It would be easy to fall away from the people in the midst of the passionate rush of a political campaign," Boswell said.

"The governor's chair is a position of power, and one who strives for it can find himself, if he is not careful, standing on the people's feet instead of shaking their hands. I do not want to make this mistake. I do not have the power of a governor. I do not have the finances of other candidates. But I do have the people, and that is more important. That should be all that is important."

Boswell, a lawyer from Bryant, has long been an advocate of strengthening the role of both state and local self-government rather than relying on federal control.

Having entered the gubernatorial race in order to promote constitutional reform, Boswell has since spoken out strongly on fiscal responsibility, education, and prisons.

Boswell has constantly urged his opponents to "quit dealing in generalities and to quit shifting and side-stepping issues."

After campaigning in Hope, Boswell will spend the rest of the week meeting voters in Prescott and Fort Smith.

Over the week-end Boswell will campaign in Ozark, the Clarksville Peach Festival and the Clinton Jaycee Rally.

Housing Bill Urged to Cool Racism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters of President Johnson's $5.5-billion, three-year housing bill say the legislation will stimulate pride of ownership which, in turn, would help cool racial discontent in big cities.

The bill, which continues before the House today after being delayed Monday, contains a controversial provision to give government interest subsidies to help low-income families buy homes.

Vandalism has declined markedly where home ownership has increased, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., told the House Monday. He said persons enabled to buy decent homes "have demonstrated a new dignity, a new attitude toward their jobs and a sense of participation in their community."

the magnetic field around the sun.

Forecaster Karl Kildahl said these changes in the sun's magnetic field produce corresponding changes in the magnetic field surrounding the earth. These changes disrupt short-wave radio transmissions.

"By our own short-wave monitoring and transmissions, we can see that we have had a tremendous interruption today," Kildahl said.

He said the flare, which lasted about an hour, produced "noise storms" on short-wave transmissions that lasted several hours. By late evening the interference had died down, he said.

The storms affected a wide segment of the short-wave band, knocking out transmission from 184 megacycles to 10 megacycles, Kildahl said.

The flare was rated class 3 or a scale of brightness and size that has a maximum rating of class 4. It was the highest magnitude recorded since May 1965, Kildahl said. Two Class 2 solar flares, which also interrupted short-wave communications, were recorded Saturday.

Flares of lesser magnitude are seen at some of the flare patrol stations almost every day, Kildahl said.

2nd Mailed Bomb Kills an Ohioan

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Daniel J. Ronek, a teacher who would have been 24 today, received a 6-inch-long, cylindrical package in the mail Monday. The package exploded in his hands, killing him.

The mailman who delivered the package described it as being 2 inches in diameter with a metal screw cap at one end.

It was enclosed in heavy, dark tan cardboard and weighed 8 ounces to one pound, according to the mailman, Herbert Harding.

The package had been forwarded from Columbus, Harding said, and the Columbus address on the package had been scratched out.

Harding said Ronek often received mail forwarded from Columbus to the home where Ronek lived with his mother and an uncle.

Neither Ronek's mother, Mrs. Susan Ronek, nor his uncle, Steve Breznen, were at home when the blast occurred.

Postal authorities joined police in the investigation.

It was the second such death in Lorain County this year. A bomb package received by bus killed 42-year-old Samuel Hammons Jr. at his home in Avon Feb. 24. The FBI linked that death to a love triangle involving a California man and woman. The California man's body was found later in a pond and no charges were pressed in the case.

Ronek was president of his high school class, was a graduate of Miami State University and did graduate work at Ohio State University last year.

A friend said he taught at Central Junior High School on East 40th Street in a predominantly Negro area of Cleveland during the school year that ended in June.

During the summer months Ronek worked at U.S. Steel Corp.'s National Tube works in Lorain.

Paroles Cut Prison's Work Force

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — John Haley, chairman of the Board of Correction, said Monday that an increase in the parole rate had forced "dopops" to help with the field work at Cummins Prison Farm.

Dopops are prisoners rated between rank men and trustys. Haley said the prison population had decreased by about 500 in less than a year, mostly because of more leniency in paroles.

He said the situation would improve when the legislature makes farm machinery available.

Rockefeller Denies Spat With Wife

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Monday there was "no truth" to a report that he was slapped by his wife recently at Warren.

Harry Pearson of the Pine Bluff Commercial reported Sunday that the governor's wife "hauled off and slapped her husband in front of a handful of witnesses, including a photographer for The Commercial."

"I have a very affectionate wife," Rockefeller said. "Instead of giving me a kiss, she will sometimes pat my face."

He told a news conference that he and his wife had enjoyed a "pleasant, happy day" that day.

Rockefeller said the report had been fabricated, which prompted newsmen to ask why anyone would make up such a report.

"There are six candidates running on the Democrat ticket who haven't said much about each other," Rockefeller said. "I'm not saying it came from any headquarters, but it would make you wonder."

Rockefeller was reminded that the Pine Bluff Commercial had endorsed him in his 1966 campaign for governor, but Rockefeller said, "You know the reporter."

Pearson said the photographer mentioned in column was Joey Pearce.

Pearce gave this description of the incident:

"I was watching as they got in the car to leave. It looked like there was an exchange of words. I don't know what was said. Then she slapped the tar out of him. He lunged at her. She opened the door to get out of the car. When she got about halfway out of the car, the chauffeur pushed her back into the car. Then he jumped into the car and took off."

Pearce said the Rockefellers were in the back seat and he couldn't see the governor's face. He also said he had failed to get a picture of the incident.

Pearson said, after being told of Rockefeller's remarks, "I am satisfied with the accuracy of the story and the account of the eyewitnesses."

Pearson's column also carried a report that Rockefeller had shoved Walter Rugaber, a New York Times newsman, twice at the Southern Governor's Conference several weeks ago at Charleston, S.C.

Rockefeller denied the report. Rockefeller's press secretary, Bill Conley, said Sunday, however, that Rockefeller had shoved Rugaber.

"It was a light shove," Conley said. "It wasn't any big deal."

Rockefeller said he had told Rugaber that he did not want to discuss the Arkansas prison system any further.

Rugaber was the first to report that former Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton planned to dig for graves at Cummins Prison Farm. Three skeletons were unearthed shortly after Rugaber's story appeared, but there was no evidence to substantiate Murton's contention that the bodies were those of murdered inmates.

Reagan to Visit State on July 20

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Charles Bernard of Earle, a Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate seat held by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., announced today that California Gov. Ronald Reagan will come to Arkansas for a fund-raising event in Bernard's honor.

The Earle businessman said the fund-raising fete will be July 20.

"We've just received this news and therefore don't have concrete plans about Mr. Reagan's visit," Bernard said.

Reagan is viewed by veteran observers as a possible GOP candidate for president or vice president.

Bernard is the only Republican seeking the Senate position. Fulbright seeks re-election and is opposed in the July 30 primary by three other Democrats. — Jim Johnson of Conway, Foster Johnson of Little Rock and Bobby K. Hayes of Calico Rock.
